His Success at the Coming Election Now Seems Assured.

THE CAMPAIGN IN NEW YORK

Preparations for a Mass Meeting it Carnegie Hall--Cheering News Comes from the South-- Major Mc-Kinley's Letter of Acceptance Is Finished.

New York, Aug. 20 .- The big Republican mass meeting to be held in Car-negie Music hall, at which ex-President Harrison will be the chief orator is now attracting the attention of Chairman Mark Hanna and the members of the Republican national committee. They expect good results to follow from the published utterances of the ex-president. Mr. Hanna said to-day that he expected to remain and attend the meeting.

His opinion is that it will be a great

e speech that will be delivered by Mr. Harrison will be sent broadcast throughout the country and especially to the state of Indiana, where there are about 7,000 floating voters. The people in Indiana have great faith in the soundness of Mr. Harrison's views and they remember the prosperity they en-joyed during his administration. Chauncey Depew's speech as presiding officer will be short, but full of political

Mr. Hanna arrived at headquarters at 10 o'clock, and when questioned about the solid South he said he hoped to carry several states. He declined to go into particulars. Mr. N. B. Scott and Senator S. B. Elkins, who are the big Republicans in West Virginia, however, are sanguine that their state will go Republican. They carried it last year and Mr. Elkins was elected senator. The senator does not belong to the pessimistic school, and he has more enthusiasm than any Southern Republican. His enthusiasm and energy elected him to the senate. Whenever he sees Mr. Hanna he never concedes that the Democrats can carry that state. He knows what he is talking about, because he has canvassed for several years in the state, and knows even the mountain tralls

CHEERING WORDS FROM SOUTH. Maryland is also another state that is doubtful and leaning toward Republicanism. General Felix Agnus and the present Republican governor of the state, Mr. Lowndes, both think that the McKinley ticket will have a majority of the votes in this once strong Democratic state. As to Kentucky, it is also considered debatable ground, ness the convention adjourned at 4.15 and the national committee will make to 5.15, when the convention reasan effort to assist the Republicans there in their fight. General T. Michener of Indiana, Congressman R. W. Taylor of Ohio, and publican national congressional committee, called on Mr. Hanna today at headquarters. Ex-Congressman Benjamin Butterworth, the great Quaker orator of Ohio, was also a visitor. They all make encouraging reports without the usual exaggerated generalities that are given out for publicaworked on the last proof sheet on the letter of acceptance most of the day. The letter will contain several thousand words and will be very explicit on the money question, but the tariff will not in any way be neglected. Citizens of Ellwood and New Castle, Pa., are to call spon Major McKinley Saturday. This will be the largest delegation that has visited Canton. A despatch received tonight says there will Fancy Figured Mohair Skirts, O. K. be between 1,500 and 1,800 in the party. A delegation of a thousand farmers from Western Pennsylvania and Maryland is announced for the middle of September.

Major McKinley had a talk this af-ternoon with T. J. Morgan, who was commissioner of Indian affairs under the Harrison administration. Mr. Morgan is traveling a good deal and asserts that the Republican prospects are improving.

The usual number of telegrams from various sections of the country, an-nouncing the formation of McKinley clubs were received today.

POLITICS DESTROY A FIRM.

Partners.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 20.-The law firm of Dickinson, Thurber and Stevenson which is comprised of Hon. Don M. Dickinson, Henry T. Thurber, private secretary of President Cleveland and Elliott G. Stevenson, late chairman of the Democratic state central committee. has disolved on account of political differences, which have arisen between Mesrs. Dickinson and Stevenson since the Chicago convention.

Thurber will remain with Dickinson. In the Chicago convention Mr. Stevenson posed as the mouthpiece of Mr. Dickinson, who represented the administration. Stevenson was chairman of the Michigan delegation and also chairman of the state central committee. He declared he would resign from the latter position, not on account of the platform, but because of the treatment of the Michigan delegation in the convention. Mr. Stevenson did resign, but his resignation was not accepted which was considered merely a personal victory rather than one for gold or the administration. Later Mr. Stevenson resigned again and made way for Mr. Baker, a rabid silver advocate, retaining a place on the committee, however, Mr. Stevenson has been taking an active part in the campaign in the interest of Bryan and Sewall. This action on the part of Stevenson so incensed Mr. Dickinson that the relations between the members of the firm became greatly strained. Ar-ticles of dissolution of the firm were signed Saturday. PLATT-MILLER FIGHT.

Tue Factions Hold Separate Conyentions in Herkimer. Herkimer, N. Y., Aug. 20.-The Platt and Miller factions of the Republican party held separate conventions here today and each nominated a candidate for congress from the Twenty-fifth dis-trict. The Platt convention nominated John S. Sherman and the Millerites Seth G. Heacock. Both conventions were characterized by vociferous cheering and applause on the part of the supporters on each side.

There will probably now be a suggle before the courts for recognitio and the contest will be carried on with bitterness till election day.

FISHERMEN'S GHASTLY FIND.

Body of an Unknown Man in the Susquehanna River.

Wilkes-Barre, Aug. 20.-A party of fishermen found the body of an unknown man in the Susquehanna river near this city this afternoon. In the man's pockets were found a prayer book in which the name of John Smith born in New England, April 12, 1871. was recorded.

He had red hair and his face was shaved smooth. From what can be learned it is thought he came from Elizabethport, N. J.

They Hold a Convention at Louisville. Colonel Breckenridge One of the Delegates to Indianapolis.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 20.-The sound money Democratic convention held in Music Hall this afternoon was attended nearly every leading Democrat in Ex-Lleutenant Governor the state. James R. Hindman was elected temporary chairman and then there was a loud demand for ex-Congresman W. C. P. Breckinridge, who sat on the stage with his wife. The silver tongued orator came forward and addressed the convention at considerable length. He began by saying that he could not stand the Chicago platform nor support the nominee. He felt worse when he was driven into the Confederate army to maintain his convictions than did now when he was driven into opposition to the regular nominees of his

FOR BIMETALLISM.

Suggestions of General Grosvenor as to the Best Plan of Fulfilling Republican Party Pledges.

Cincinnati, Aug. 20.-Th Cincinnati Post publishes today special letters from Senators Sherman, Lodge, Thurston, General C. H. Grosvenor, Congressman Bartholdt and others, as to how the Republicans will fulfill their party pledges to promote international bimetallism.

Mr. Sherman writes: "I do not think it advisable to prophesy for the future. based upon contingencies that I do not know will happen." Mr. Lodge advocates a compact through the regular forms of diplomatic negotiation. Mr. Thurston wants a monetary conference convened.

General Grosvenor proposes that the president himself upon the very thresh-hold of his administration, should, in diplomatic, but most earnest language, suggest to the great nations of the earth the propriety of such an adjustto the relative values between gold and silver as money, and that congress should pass an act authorizing the president to appoint a commis sion to draft and submit to the great financial nations a plan for a bimetal lic agreement and call upon these nations to respond by the appointment of

RUSSELL EXTENDS THE OLIVE BRANCH

Friendly Address Before the American Bar Association at Saratora.

VERITABLE MESSENGER OF PEACE

The English Jurist Gives an Earnest Appeal for Arbitration in the Settlement of International Disputes. The Warmest Feeling Should Always Exist Between English-Speaking Nations.

Saratoga, N. Y., Aug. 20.-The feature of today's session of the American Bar association was the address of Lord Russell, of Killowen, the lord chief justice of England. As Lord Russell stepped forward the vast audience broke into unrestrained applause, which continued fully a minute. Throughout the delivery of his paper, which was more of an address than a forensic effort, the closest attention was given by the au-

When Lord Russell concluded an informal recess was taken, during which all that could possibly do so crowded to the platform and clasped his hand. The thanks of the convention was presented to him for his luminous and eloquent address.

In touching upon the subject of arbitration Lord Russel said:

Experience has shown that, over a large area, international differences may honorably, practically and use-fully be dealt with by peaceful arbitrainent. There have been since 1815 some sixty instances of effective international arbitration. To thirty-two of these the United States have been a party and Great Britain to some twenty of them.

There are many instances also of the Introduction of arbitration clauses into treaties. Here again the United States appear in the van. Amongst the first of such treaties—if not the very first—is the Guadaloupe-Hidalgo treaty of 1848 between the United States and Mexico. Since that date les to which Italy was a party, such a clause should be introduced. Since the Treaty of Washington such clauses to Hon. Chauncey F. Black, president of the National Association of Democratic clubs, have been constantly inserted in commercial, postal and consular convenience.

differences. Froadly stated, wherever the right in dispute will be determined by the ascertainment of the true facts of the case; and where, the facts being ascertained, the rights depend on the application of the proper principles of international law to the given facts-in such cases, the matter is one which ought to be arbitrated So long as war remains the sole court wherein to try international quarrels. the risks of failure are so tremendous, and, the mere rumor of war so paralyses commercial and industrial life, that pretensions wholly unfounded will rarely be advanced by any nation, and, the strenuous efforts of statesmen, whether immediately concerned or not, will be directed to prevent war. But if there be a standing court of nations, to which any power may resort, with little cost and no risk, the temptation may be strong to put forward preten-tious and unfounded claims, in support of which there may readily be found, in most countries, (can we except even Great Britain and the United States?) busybody Jingoes only too ready to air their spurious and inflammatory patriotism. In dealing with the subject of arbitration I have thought it right to sound a note of caution, but it would, indeed, be a reproach to our nineteen centuries of Christian civilization, if there were now no better method for settling international differences, than the cruel and debasing methods of war. May we not hope that the people of these states and the people of Mother land-kindred peoples—may, in this matter, set an example, of lasting influence, to the

TRUE CIVILIZATION.

We boast of our advance and often look back with pitying contempt on the ways and manners of generations gone by. Are we ourselves without reproach? Has our civilization borne the true marks? Must it not be said, as has been said of religion itself, that countless crimes have been committed in its name? Probably it was inevitable that the weaker races should, in the end, succumb, but have we always treated them with consideration and with justice? Has not civilization too often been presented to them at the point of bayonet and the Bible by the hand of the filibuster? And apart from races we deem barbarous, is not the pasison for dominion and wealth and power accountable for the worst chap-ters of cruelty and oppression written in the World's history? Few peoples -perhaps none-are free from this re-proach. What indeed is true civiliza-tion? By its fruit you shall know it. It is not dominion, wealth, material luxury; nay, not even a great literature and education wide spread-good though these things be. Civilization is not a veneer; it must penetrate to the very heart and core of societies of men. Its true signs are thought for the poor and suffering, chivalrous regard and respect for woman, the frank rec-ognition of human brotherhood, irre-spective of race or color or nation or religion, the love of ordered freedom abhorrence of what is mean and cruel and vile, ceaseless devotion to the claims of justice. Civilization in that, its true, its highest sense, must make for peace. We have solid grounds for faith in the future. Government is be-coming more and more, but in no nar-row class sense, government of the people by the people and for the people. Populations are no longer moved and manoeuvred as the arbitrary will or restless ambition or caprice of kings of potentates may dictate. And although democracy is subject to violent gusts of pasison and prejudice, they are gusts only. The abiding sentiment of the masses is for peace—for peace to live industrious lives and to be at rest with all mankind. With the prophet of old they feel—though the feeling may

But if this influence is to be fully felt, they if this influence is to be fully felt, they must work together in cordial friendship, each people in its own sphere of action. If they have great power, they have also great responsibility. No cause they espouse can fail; no cause they oppose can triumph. The future is, in large part, theirs. They have the making of history in the times that are to come. The greatest calamity that could befall would be strife which should divide them.

SENATOR HILL'S LATEST DILEMMA

Pressed by Friends and Followers to Declare Himself for Bryan.

DOWNFALL IS

The New York Statesman Hemmed in by Difficulties He Cannot Overcome. Sale of Would Like to Hedge on the Currency Question -- A Campaign on

New York, Aug. 29 .- At the headquarters of the silverites at the Bartholdi hotel they have little hope that Senator Gorman will convert Senator David B. Hill to the Popocratic faith. Senator Gorman is spending his vacation at Saratoga, which is within an hour's ride by train from Albany, where Senator Hill lives. The senator has left Normandle-by-the-Sea, and is conveniently near Mr. Gorman at Wolfert's

Four years ago Senator Hill was a snapper. His partisans held early in February a so-called "snap convention" at Albany, which selected seventy-two delegates to the Chicago convention to nominate Hill for president. Then he was five months ahead of time, now he is a couple of months behind time, according to the Bryanites. He is condemned on one side for not taking decisive action for sound currency, and on the other hand he is accused of backsliding and cowardice for not taking a bold stand in behalf of Bryan and free silver. His position is a most unpleas ant one in either case, and his enemies men and all Democratic citizens, to push enjoy his predicament. They can see the handwriting on the wall which fore tells the passing of Hill from the political arena as a leader of men. They think that Mr. Hill will be a living illus tration of the old axiom that "he who hesitates is lost." But Mr. Hill wavered, is wavering and is likely to keep on wobbling in this campaign. He thinks it is cruel to press the issue. Mr. Bryan ought to be satisfied with an endorsement without men tioning the platform. For is not an indorsement of a candidate paramount to the acceptance of the platform upo which he stands?

It is cruel and humiliating to make a man declare himself when he wants to hedge. Here, a grave and dignified United Staes senator is asked to become a lightning-change artist of the comic stage variety, who comes out before the public costumed in the splendor and glory of gold in one minute, and habited in the garb of shiny silver the next. These pesky politicians have These pesky politicians have long memories, and they draw the deadly Always Busy. parallel on a poor fellow at the most unexpected times. Then they will tell an expectant public: "Wait until the convention meets. We have nothing to say."

If you want an illustration of wha sublime faith is, go to the Bartholdi headquarters. Their treasury is empty there, and you think that an empty pocket would discourage the average nan. But not so Mr. "Sinjun." He says money is no object in this campaign. When the free silver millennium come the people will have so much money that they don't want any now. The are going to vote for Bryan and liv on expectations meanwhile. But Mr Sinjun does not explain how expecta tion is going to buy a hungry man a meal. The faith cure is a new idea in

FARMERS TURN WHITE CAPS.

Arkansans Determined to Rid Them selves of Cotton Thieves.

Clarksville, Ark., Aug. 30.-Johnston county farmers in the vicinity of Lanar have begun white cap operations in an effort to rid the community of cotton thieves. For the past two or three years farmers in that neighborhood have been annoyed by wholesale petty thieves. Cotton, cattle and hogs have been stolen. Tuesday night an armed band of twenty-five farmers called on several families suspected of the thefts and notified them to leave the community. Instead of leaving, the alleged thieves are arming themselves with shot guns, and trouble is expected to occur.
